The Galpin Society Journal

Volume LX April 2007

CONTENTS

	page
Editorial	2
The Musical Miniatures of the Triumphzug of Maximilian I. Herbert Myers	3–28
Instruments, Strings, Wire and Other Musical Miscellanea in the Account Books of Claver Morris (1659-1727). H. Diack Johnstone	29–35
The Inventory of the Gotha Court Orchestra in 1750. Christian Ahrens	37–44
The Hitchcock Spinet Makers – a New Analysis. Peter Mole	45–61
Girolamo Zenti and Giovanni Battista Boni da Cortona: an unsuspected relationship. Luca Purchiaroni	63–69
Rosamond Harding: Author and Musicologist. Michael Cole	71–84
The Singular Case of Manuel Nunes and the Invention of the Bouncing Flea. John King and Jim Tranquada	85–95
Colour Section (colour illustrations for these articles)	97–119
The Violoncello, Viola da Spalla and Viola Pomposa in Theory and Practice. Dmitry Badiarov	121–145
Evidence about the Lira da Braccio from Two Seventeenth-Century Violin Sources. Rebecca Cypess	147–160
The Tonalities of the Isankuni. Luvuyo Dontsa	161–166
The Influence of the Tsaboúna Bagpipe on the Lira and Violin. Haris Sarris	167–180
The Form, History, and Classification of the Tekerőlant (Hungarian Hurdy-Gurdy). Arle Lommel and Balázs Nagy	181–189
Publications by Members of the Galpin Society	190
An Organological Overview of the Recorder 1800-1905. Douglas MacMillan	191–202
Ferdinando Sebastiani, Gennaro Bosa and the Clarinet in Nineteenth-Century Naples. Ingrid Elizabeth Pearson	203–214
An Introduction to the Basque Txalaparta. Helen Leaf	215–219
Notes & Queries.
Christian Ahrens: Metallic Mutes Used in the Eighteenth Century	220–223

(continued overleaf)